DESIGNED TO INSPIRE

Elegant and filigree

The more hybrid, agile and individual the work becomes, the more dynamic and uncomplicated the office swivel chair needs to be – no matter where the work is done. In open spaces, in individual offices and in the home office, light and filigree design is more in demand than ever. That is why lightness in the workplace now has a new name: se:air.

The organic design blends harmoniously into any working environment

ADJUSTED TO THE USER

Mechanism for minimalists

With the se:air, the most critical requirements for a swivel chair are met: plenty of freedom of movement, ergonomic sitting and total comfort. The patented “Kinetic Swing” mechanism automatically detects the user’s weight without them having to think about it or adjust anything themselves. The seat height and the multifunctional armrests can be manually adjusted for this purpose. The principle is simple: Just sit down and get started.

Sedus patented “Kinetic Swing” mechanism se:air has an automatic weight adjustment without any tedious adjustment required: The higher the user's weight, the greater the resistance when leaning against the backrest

Typical application areas for the se:air are:

- Team workstations
- Project rooms & agile workshops
- Meeting & seminar rooms
- Single workstations and home office
- Non-territorial working
- Hot desking and collaboration zones
- Co-working spaces

TRANSPARENCY AND FRESH LOOK

Light meets comfortable

Keeping cool is no problem with se:air. It goes without a classic full upholstery. Instead, it has an air-permeable mesh membrane in the seat and backrest, thus ensuring breathable comfort. Different sitting positions and movements are optimally supported due to the changing degrees of hardness in the membrane. Heat accumulation at pressure points, pressure sores and slipping around on the seat are thus easily prevented.

The high-quality membranes have different degrees of hardness in the backrest and seat. Without visible seams, the membrane is secured in the frame and thus offers optimal support

Two model colours are available for the se:air

1. The membrane in the seat and the backrest ensures lightness and comfortable sitting
2. The multifunctional armrests are height-adjustable, including sliding pad with floating effect (can be moved forwards and backwards without locking, can be rotated inwards and outwards)
3. The optional lumbar support strengthens the lower back and ensures ergonomic sitting
4. The "Kinetic Swing" mechanism means there is no need for adjustment
5. The se:air can also be configured as a counter version upon request

WITH AN EYE FOR DETAIL

Sustainable, durable, modern

The filigree se:air design is not only visually convincing. It also stands out due to its sustainable features. Up to 50 % of the frame material is made of recycle. The membrane is knitted to a perfect fit and is also tear-resistant, extremely durable and “Made in Germany”. The functional armrests, the base with five legs and the optional lumbar support elegantly round off the swivel chair.
